DANIELSON

At his home on the West Side on Thanksgiving day, Winton Briggs celebrated his 99th birthday and is looking forward to reaching a full century. the survivors of a family of twelve children, eight boys and four girls. Mr. Briggs is in comparatively good health, is active and does a very considerable amount of work and is looking forward to the attainment of his 100th birthday.

Thanksgiving proved an exceptionally quiet holiday in Danielson. The streets were practically deserted throughout the holiday excepting at times when large numbers were going to or coming from the churches, which attracted the business. The basketball game in the town hall helped furnish entertainment during the evening hours, but as a whole the day was uncommonly dreary and lifeless.

A few number of visitors were in town than usual on Thanksgiving and fewer journeyed elsewhere to spend the day.

At St. James' church, Thanksgiving morning, at 7 o'clock, Miss Louise Vivers and Michael Brulle were united in marriage by Rev. M. J. Ginet, M. S., who also was celebrant of the nuptial mass.

The bridegroom was attended by Miss Rose Vivers, sister of the bride, and by Charles Broyna as best man.

A union prayer meeting service was held at the Methodist church Thanksgiving evening. Following the prayer service the official board of the church held a meeting. Miss Josephine S. Fisk, superintendent of the deaconess home, will be at the Methodist church next Sunday morning and will tell of the work being done by the association she represents.

The new Catholic chapel at Warrenville is now equipped with seats, many of which were obtained in Hartford, and service will be held there regularly every other Sunday. Rev. M. J. Ginet, M. S., of Danielson, making the journey to minister to the members of the faith in that outlying territory.

At a service in Brooklyn next Sunday evening, Miss Rachel Preston, daughter of Town Clerk and Mrs. Frank T. Preston, will tell of her work as a nurse at Dr. Grenfell's mission in Labrador during the past summer.

Rev. John R. Pratt, pastor of the Congregational church at Brooklyn, is to deliver an illustrated address on Egypt on next Tuesday evening at the Line Street church at North Sterling. The pictures with which Rev. Mr. Pratt's talk will be illustrated were taken by himself while he was touring Egypt.

Following a custom established for many years, a Thanksgiving dinner such as is usually served in New England homes was provided at the town farm on Thanksgiving day for the sixteen inmates of the institution. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Bassett, who are in charge, saw to it that all of the old people had bountiful dinners, those who were unable to come to the dining room being served in their rooms. Chicken and vegetables and all of the other fixings were included to make up a dinner than anyone would enjoy, and the inmates did full justice to it.

At the county jail in Brookville there also was a special dinner for the prisoners, who were exceedingly well notwithstanding the fact that their liberty is restrained.

Clifford J. Atwood, who has been dangerously ill at a Worcester hospital, was reported on Thanksgiving day as improved and resting more comfortably. Following an operation for appendicitis from which Mr. Atwood was recovering nicely, a complication arose that made another operation necessary and for a few days Mr. Atwood was very ill.

Thomas J. Aylward, Miss Katherine D. Aylward, Miss Helen E. Aylward and Miss Edna Reed were guests Thanksgiving day of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Thayer and family at Putnam.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McDermott and children of Putnam were holiday guests of Mrs. Michael McDermott of High street.

Kenneth C. Vincent of Hartford was a visitor with friends in Danielson over the holiday.

Flocks of wild geese passing southward have been reported during the past two days and one flock lighted in a pond and spent the night in a Windham county town.

A fox hunt in which a number of Danielson men participated was held Thanksgiving day.

Charles Schofield of Boston spent the holiday with relatives in Danielson. Rev. and Mrs. John W. Wright were guests of Mr. Helen Kelley at Dayville over the holiday.

State Officer Howard E. Elliott and Harry Lathrop, dog warden of the town of Brooklyn, will make an investigation today (Friday) relative to a dog which was on a rampage in the town of Brooklyn, the animal being shot and killed by John Warrington. The dog's head has been sent to New Haven for tests to determine whether the animal was suffering from rabies. The dog's last home was a number indicating that the animal was the property of James Brooks of East Killingly. It was said at Mr. Lathrop's home after the animal was killed that the animal had been taken to John Harrington's farm and killed two puppies there, while at the Hugh Gorman place the killing of some chickens is charged against it.

PUTNAM

At the Windham County Home for Children in the Sawyer district of this town Thursday, 120 little people sat down to a beautiful Thanksgiving dinner to which they did full justice, their appetites unspoiled by the dreariness of the weather.

Just through a month's siege with the measles, 28 of the children being afflicted with the disease during the course of the epidemic at the home, all were in good health on Thanksgiving day and prime for the enjoyment of one of the big feasts of the year at the institution.

This year roast pork with an almost endless array of vegetables, fruit, candy and other good things were served. Ordinarily chicken is served the children on Thanksgiving day, but no great amount of poultry was raised on the home farm this year, so roast pork was substituted and proved wholly accepted to the young people.

During the day many relatives and friends of the children called to pay them a holiday visit.

At the Putnam town farm the 17 inmates were served a splendid Thanksgiving dinner of roast chicken, vegetables, cranberry sauce and all of the other fixings, the day being made more than ordinarily enjoyable in comfortable surroundings. Nearly all of the foodstuffs used for the holiday dinner at the farm were grown on the property.

The 28 ten women and six men and a boy at the farm at the present time.

At St. Mary's church Thanksgiving morning in the presence of relatives and friends Miss Matilda Durand of Woodstock avenue and Leo Dubois, also of this city, were united in marriage by Rev. Charles F. Bedard, who also was celebrant of the nuptial mass.

The couple were attended by Miss Clara Bonnell as bridesmaid and August Durand, brother of the bride, as best man.

Following a reception the bridal couple left for their honeymoon. They will make their home in Putnam.

The body of Mrs. Emma James, 49, who was struck and killed on the main line of the New Haven road near Pomfret Wednesday about 5:30, was brought to this city and taken in charge of by a local undertaker. Mrs. James, who was employed at the farm of Mayotte L. Wright, had left a train at Pomfret station and was walking along the track back to the Wright farm when she was overtaken by another train, struck and instantly killed.

Woonsocket inspectors who came here to ascertain as to whether the Bradleys and Shacketts, held at Brooklyn jail for robbery in Pomfret and Woonsocket, had anything to do with a series of similar robberies in and near Woonsocket have obtained finger prints at the county jail and will compare them with other prints on articles handled in houses robbed at Woonsocket.

The executive committee of the Farmers' association held a meeting recently. Those present were: C. R. Pomfret, William L. Danielson, Danielson, Putnam; Henry Durand, Plainfield; Louis S. Barstow, Killingly; John R. Stromberg, Abington; Mrs. Willie Covell, Pomfret; Mr. Edith M. Kennedy, Plainfield; Mr. Grace Sweet, Sterling; Director H. J. Baker of the Extension Service; and County Agent E. L. Davis. In the absence of S. H. Peckham, vice president, a temporary chairman was appointed. The farmers' association has received a limited supply of the bulletin entitled, "The Protection of Fruit Trees from Mice and Other Rodents," by S. P. Hol-
